

Eight local field trip destinations, including the Embassy Theatre are collaborating to bring schools a new program called 2ForU. 2ForU is a collaboration between the Botanical Conservatory, Embassy Theatre, Fort Wayne Youtheatre, Lindenwood Nature Preserve, McMillen Center for Health Education, Salomon Farm Park, Science Central and The History Center.

2ForU allows schools/teachers to visit one website and register to visit two field trip venues in one day. This will help schools to work more efficiently and will also help with the availability and cost of bus transportation by scheduling two venues for one field trip day. Many of the venues have discounted their per student fee or offer a value added experience to the educational visit.

Field trips offer experiential learning opportunities outside of the classroom environment while still meeting required curriculum standards. Regional schools will now have eight field trip destinations who are working together, allowing for increased learning for students.
